Android: Running Android apps within Chrome is surprisingly easy. Getting apps to run is a little harder. Fortunately, Chrome APK Packager can help transform existing Android apps into Chrome-friendly packages. Recently, Google has made the first batch of Android apps available for Chrome. It was just a matter... Read more Launch the application on your Android phone and you will see a list of the apps you have installed. Select one, tap "Generate Chrome APK" and create a folder for you on your phone storage. Copy this to your computer and upload it using our guide above and you are ready to run Android apps in your browser. As usual, there is no guarantee that apps will work because this is quite unofficial work around, but this application simplifies the process of getting Chrome-ready packages a lot. [APP]Crome APK Packager-Generates Chrome App Packages installed on your phone | XDA via Android PoliceUpdate: the app was withdrawn from the Play Store, presumably due to the name "Chrome". You... Read more In a world where multiple applications help to watch flicks on the big screen, there is an app that stands up over the rest. It is free, it is easy to use, and it is the best way to buy movie tickets on the go. Getting to an iPhone near you: Fandango. FandangoPlatform: iOS (iPhone and iPad)Price: FreeDownload PageFeatures Search shows for movies, theater or frame. "Go Now" feature finds the next showtime movies at nearby theaters. Add specific theaters to a list of favorites. Add movies to your favorites to create a list of watches of the next movies you want to see, or movies you have already seen and you want to vote / review. Get notifications when tickets for the next movies in your favorite list go on sale. Receive notifications ofwhen a movie you bought tickets to is about to start early. Watch the trailers for the next films. Search cast, crew and synopsis film information. See what movie tickets are selling as hot cakesin real time with "The Pulse" on iPadWhere It Excels The Fandango app has all the basics like looking for movie showtimes for movies, theater, GPS location, or frame of time, but it is also the best way to buy movie tickets with the phone. Fandango movie ticket payment system (including paperless mobile movie ticket, scanned), is used by several other movie showtime applications and services, so why not cut middleman applications and go right to the source? You can save credit card information in the app, and buy movie tickets for the whole family at once with a few taps. The Go Now feature allows you to turn a boring evening into a night of spontaneous movies in flight. You will see every theater near you, and what films they will play soon so you don't have to do any more research. Choose the movie, buy your tickets in the app and go. You can also get directions for the cinema, and Fandango allows you to choose between using Google Maps or Apple Maps. If you enabled notifications, you will receive a reminder that your movie will start in half an hour. In this way, if you are out and about, you will not be sidetracked do something else and lose on getting snacks before the show begins. Fandango's favorite system is also simple and simple. You can designate some theaters like your favorite destinations, and you can keep an eye on movies that are not yet out. Just select a theater or movie inside the app and tap the heart at the top right. Any theater you prefer will be the first ones that show up on the list when you are looking for showtime, which is nice if you frequent the same theaters most of the time. When you prefer a movie, the movie is added to your list "My Movies". Once there, you will receive news updates, exclusive offers and notifications when thego on sale so as not to miss during the opening of the weekend. Where ShortFandango falls is not perfect, though. There are two thingsFandango from that title: ads and reviews. No matter which card you are on the Fandango app, there is usually a small banner ad along the top or bottom of the screen. Occasionally you will get full screen advertising as you change tabs as well. There is no "premium" fee or registration or app version to get rid of them, so that they could be frustrating for some. When it comes to Fandango reviews scores, they are not as useful as scores found in some competing applications like Flixster and the IMDb application. Fandango user reviews scores are based on a five-star system, which is more difficult to track anything than an aggregate system based on the percentage like Rotten tomatoes. In addition, Fandango fan review scores are questionable because movies never seem to get less than three stars, according to a recent FiveThirtyEight analysis. Luckily, Fandango shows the critical review scores professional film (and a Metascore based on all related critical scores), as well as links to each full review for you to read. The CompetitionFandango has just bought one of its biggest competitors, Flixster (our previous pick), and the film review aggregated site Rotten Tomatoes. Both Fandango and Flixster will continue to operate as separate entities for now, but the best features of Flixster will probably arrive at Fandango shortly, and vice versa. A better scoring system review can be on the road to Fandango (speribly), and Flixster, the only showtime movie app that was not using the Fandango ticket payment system, will probably start using it. IMDb (Free) is definitely a solid alternative (and our choice on Android) if you are a serious movie buff who wants more information behind the scenes. In addition to all the things IMDb isfor, you can look for showtime for any movie for theater or within a certain range of time, and watch trailer for the next movies. You can also purchase tickets through the app, but the service is powered by Fandango. Most of ushow useful it is imdb to get information about movies, but few probably think of. to learn moreMovies of moviefone (free) is another alternative, but the features of the app are poor and the ticket payment system is powered by phndango. moviefone has no ads, however, and uses metacritic for its movie review scores, so it could be worth for some people. in the same balpark, showtimes (free) is quite a fish plug when it comes to features. the application has advertising banners, ticket sales are powered by phndango, and the results of the movie reviews of showtimes are simply an average of the scores found in the flixster app. contact the author at patrick.alan@lifehacker.com. patrick.alan@lifehacker.com.
